THE BULLOCK PRESIDENCY

Series Bible — Document 08: The Kids' Schools (LOCKED)

Canon: in Los Angeles, the kids attend public schools, in keeping with how they're being raised (as Millennials). If Marc wins, all three move to Sidwell Friends School in Washington, D.C., in January 2025.

1. Right Now: Los Angeles (2022–2025)

Child	School year (grade)	School	Notes
Emma & Victoria (b. May 10, 2012)	2022–23 (5th)	Roscomare Road Elementary (LAUSD), Bel Air	The neighborhood public school a few minutes from Sunrise Hill. Their last year of elementary when the story opens.
Emma & Victoria	2023–24 (6th) and fall 2024 (7th)	Paul Revere Charter Middle School (LAUSD), Brentwood	Public middle school on Sunset Boulevard. A Secret Service presence on campus starting Feb 2024 (the detail granted Feb 9, 2024).
Lyric Baker (b. Apr 20, 2014)	2022–23 (3rd) through fall 2024 (5th)	Windsor Hills Math, Science & Aerospace Magnet (LAUSD), Windsor Hills	Already canon: "Lyric's school in Windsor Hills" (Ch. 3). A public magnet near the Bakers' home in View Park, and the source of the 30 third-graders at her birthday party.

2. LOCKED: If Marc Wins, Sidwell Friends School, Washington, D.C. (from January 2025)

Author's decision: in Washington, all three children attend Sidwell Friends School, the Quaker private school that has educated Washington's First Children for decades, including Chelsea Clinton, Malia and Sasha Obama, and Biden grandchildren. It has long experience working alongside Secret Service details. Its Quaker motto, "Eluceat omnibus lux" ("Let the light shine out from all"), suits these kids.

Move date: the family moves into the White House after the inauguration (Mon Jan 20, 2025). The kids start at Sidwell on Monday, January 27, 2025, mid-year, as the Obama girls did in January 2009. Lyric moves too: Amond, as Vice President, lives at the official residence at the Naval Observatory, a short drive from Sidwell's Wisconsin Avenue campus.

Child	Years	Sidwell division	Notes
Emma & Victoria	Jan 2025 – Jun 2026 (7th–8th)	Middle School (grades 5–8), Wisconsin Ave NW, D.C.	Mid-year arrival in 7th grade.
Emma & Victoria	2026–2030 (9th–12th)	Upper School (grades 9–12), D.C.	Class of 2030. They turn 18 on Fri May 10, 2030, weeks before commencement.
Lyric Baker	Jan 2025 – Jun 2028 (5th–8th)	Middle School	Sidwell's Middle School starts at 5th grade, so Lyric is on the same campus as the twins from day one.
Lyric Baker	2028–2032 (9th–12th)	Upper School	Class of 2032. She graduates months before The Blinding (Sep 13, 2032).

Same-building years: all three are at the Middle School from Jan 2025 to Jun 2026 (the twins in 7th–8th, Lyric in 5th–6th), and again at the Upper School from 2028 to 2030 (the twins as juniors and seniors, Lyric as a freshman and sophomore).

3. College (per the locked timeline)

- Emma & Victoria: 2030–2034. Which colleges is an open story thread, decided on-page in their senior year (2029–30), in Marc's second term. They may choose different schools, the twins' first real separation.
- Lyric: 2032–2036. Chosen in 2031–32. She starts in fall 2032, in the shadow of the war.

4. Story Engines

- Opposition (not nerfed): "Public school in L.A., elite private school in D.C." Critics attack the switch as hypocrisy from a President running on Universal Education. Marc's answer: "In L.A. my kids could be normal. In D.C. they've got a Secret Service detail and a target on their backs. Sidwell's protected every First Kid since Chelsea. I'm not experimenting with my daughters' safety to win a news cycle. I'm going to fix public schools so no parent ever has to make that choice." Some accept that, and some never will.
- The Smilleys: Cornelius quietly approves, since Sidwell is where Washington power families send their children, and he hates that he agrees with Marc on something. Lorraine is relieved. Odessa says the twins could learn as much at her kitchen table.
- Normal-kid moments: lunch tables, science fairs, school dances, and first crushes, all under a federal protective detail and alongside the children of senators, diplomats, and journalists.
- The Quaker way: Sidwell's Meeting for Worship, which includes silent reflection, gives a wild child like Victoria a weekly challenge and gives Emma a weekly place to think.
- Lyric and the twins on one campus, and the twins' fierce protectiveness of their goddaughter-cousin.
