THE BULLOCK PRESIDENCY

Series Bible — Document 04: Donohue Entertainment (LOCKED CANON)

Locked Rules

- The Walt Disney Company does not exist in our story. Donohue Entertainment fills its role in history, culture, and the economy, and then some.
- Founded in 1923 in Los Angeles, California. Headquartered in Burbank, California.
- A multinational mass media and entertainment conglomerate. Effectively a monopoly: everyone depends on it heavily, whether they know it or not.
- The largest, most successful, powerful, influential, respected, beloved, charitable (it spares no expense), and valuable company in the world. Valuation: $1.5 trillion.
- Anything that was "Disney" in real life is "Donohue" in our story: the Donohue Channel, Donohue+, the parks, the cruise line, the movies, the mascot.

Company Snapshot (January 1, 2023)

Item	Detail
Legal name	Donohue Entertainment Corporation
Stock ticker	NYSE: DON (a Dow Jones Industrial Average component)
Founded	Monday, October 1, 1923, on Central Avenue, Los Angeles
Founders	Elijah Donohue, Augustus Donohue, and Isaac Feldman
Headquarters	The Donohue Studios lot, Burbank, California (since 1940)
Market valuation	$1.5 trillion (about 4.2 billion shares at about $357)
FY2022 revenue	About $410 billion
FY2022 net income	About $92 billion
Employees	About 640,000 worldwide
Chairman	Victor Donohue (since 2006; CEO 1976–2006)
CEO	Natasha Bullock (née Donohue) (since 2006)
President & COO	Danielle "Dani" Shaw
Mascot	Benny Bluebird (debuted 1928)
Logo	Benny Bluebird in flight over the Sunrise Tower, the spire at the center of every Donohue park
Slogan	"Where Every Dream Takes Flight."

The History of Donohue Entertainment

Year	Milestone
1923	Brothers Elijah (b. May 4, 1899) and Augustus Donohue (b. Aug 19, 1901), sons of Louisiana sharecroppers who moved to Los Angeles, found Donohue Brothers Pictures on Central Avenue, the heart of Black Los Angeles, on Oct 1, 1923. They begin with "race films" for Black audiences (the real-world tradition of the Lincoln Motion Picture Company and Oscar Micheaux). Banks won't lend to Black men, so Isaac Feldman, a Jewish banker's son who is also shut out of old-money Hollywood, puts up the capital and his name on the deeds. A partnership of outsiders.

Year	Milestone
1928	Augustus, the creative genius, creates Benny Bluebird. His debut short, Bluebird Blues (Nov 9, 1928), is one of the first cartoons with fully synchronized sound and a live jazz score. Benny becomes the most famous cartoon character in the world.
1930s	Benny merchandise carries the company through the Great Depression. In 1937, The Firebird Princess becomes the first full-length animated feature in America and a global phenomenon.
1940	Moves to a 51-acre lot in Burbank, bought in Feldman's name to get around Los Angeles's racially restrictive property covenants. It is still the headquarters.
1941–1945	Makes training and morale films for the U.S. military in WWII, earning goodwill in Washington that lasts for generations.
1947	Founds the Donohue Foundation, which today is the largest corporate philanthropy in the world.
1954	Launches the Sunday-night TV anthology Donohue's World of Wonder on ABC.
Jul 4, 1956	Donohue Dreamland opens in Anaheim, California: the world's first modern theme park. It is integrated from day one, in 1956. Civil-rights leaders call it "the happiest place in America for everyone."
1958	Elijah steps down as CEO. His son Marcus Donohue (b. Feb 11, 1921) becomes CEO (1958–1976).
Oct 1, 1971	Donohue World Resort opens in Orlando, Florida, exactly 48 years after the company's founding.
1976	Victor Donohue (30), Marcus's son and already a movie star, becomes CEO (1976–2006).
Apr 18, 1983	The Donohue Channel launches on cable. Donohue Tokyo Resort opens the same year.
1989–1999	The Donohue Renaissance: a decade of blockbuster animated musicals that defined a generation.
1992	Donohue Paris opens.
1996	Acquires Capital Cities/ABC (about $19B), adding the ABC network and ESPN.
Oct 1997	Donohue's film division releases Robert Bullock's Pulpit (see Bible 03, the Smilley feud).
1998	The Donohue Cruise Line sets sail.
2002–2009	The Donohue Channel's child-star golden age: Marc My Words, Esther Ever After, and more. Marc also stars on Nickelodeon's Kid Mayor, a rare cross-network deal his mother negotiated.
2005	Donohue Hong Kong opens.
2006	Natasha Bullock (35) becomes CEO and Victor becomes Chairman. Her first move: acquiring Pixar ($7.4B).
2009	Acquires Marvel Entertainment ($4B).
2012	Acquires Lucasfilm (about $4.05B), including Star Wars.
2016	Donohue Shanghai opens.
2017	Acquires BAMTech, the streaming technology that now quietly runs much of the world's video streaming.
2019	Acquires 21st Century Fox (about $71B), including 20th Century Studios, FX, and National Geographic. Donohue+ launches on Nov 12, 2019.
2020–2022	Rides out COVID park closures, emerges stronger, and becomes the first media company valued above $1 trillion. Valued at $1.5T at the start of 2023.

Why Everyone Depends on Donohue (Whether They Know It or Not)

Division	What it is	The hidden dependency
Donohue Studios	Donohue Animation, Pixar, Marvel Studios, Lucasfilm, 20th Century, Searchlight	About 45% of the global box office.
Donohue Media Networks	ABC, ESPN (80%; Hearst holds 20%), the Donohue Channel, FX, National Geographic	Most of America's live sports and local news run through Donohue.
Donohue+ & Hulu	Streaming (about 320M subscribers combined)	The largest streaming service in the world.
Donohue Streaming Technologies	Formerly BAMTech	Licensed white-label to rivals. Competitors' apps often run on Donohue's servers.

Division	What it is	The hidden dependency
DonohueTech / RenderWorks	Animation and visual-effects software (including Pixar's RenderMan)	The industry standard. Nearly every film and game studio pays Donohue to render.
Parks, Experiences & Products	Twelve parks on four continents, the cruise line, resorts, Benny Bluebird licensing	Benny is on cereal boxes, backpacks, and diapers in almost every country.
Donohue Records	Music labels and publishing catalogs	A huge share of the world's song rights, including the songs in your ads, your games, and your wedding.
Donohue Pay	Payment system born in the parks, now everywhere	Used by millions of merchants that have never set foot in a Donohue park.
Donohue Real Estate	Land holdings, including the planned community of Sunrise, Florida	One of the largest private landholders in America.
Donohue Foundation	Philanthropy	Gives away about $25B a year: children's hospitals, scholarships, disaster relief. It spares no expense.

Share Distribution (Realistic Dual-Class Structure)

Donohue uses the dual-class share structure that real companies like Meta and Alphabet use to keep founder-family control. Class A shares trade on the NYSE with 1 vote each. Class B shares are held only by the Donohue family, carry 10 votes each, and cannot be sold without converting to Class A. About 4.2 billion shares are outstanding.

Holder	Share class	Economic stake	Voting power	Value at $1.5T
Victor & Joan Donohue Family Trust	B	11.0%	35.8%	$165.0B
Natasha Bullock (direct and trusts)	B	8.0%	26.1%	$120.0B
Marc-Anthony Bullock (direct and via Bullock Holdings)	A + B	12.0%	9.8%	$180.0B
Elxa Bullock Trust	A + B	2.0%	3.6%	$30.0B
Grace Bullock Trust	A + B	2.0%	3.6%	$30.0B
Feldman family heirs	A	2.5%	0.8%	$37.5B
Vanguard Group	A	7.8%	2.5%	$117.0B
BlackRock	A	6.4%	2.1%	$96.0B
State Street	A	3.9%	1.3%	$58.5B
Other institutions & sovereign wealth funds	A	24.0%	7.8%	$360.0B
Employee stock plans	A	3.0%	1.0%	$45.0B
Retail / public investors	A	17.4%	5.7%	$261.0B
TOTAL		100.0%	100.0%	$1,500B

Bottom line: the Donohue–Bullock family owns 35% of the company's value but controls 79% of the vote. Wall Street owns most of the economics, and the family runs the company. Nobody can take Donohue over without them. Marc's stake alone is worth about $180B and gives him about 9.8% of the vote.

Story Engines (Not Nerfed)

- Antitrust. A company this dominant is a top target for the FTC and DOJ. FTC Chair Lina Khan (in office since 2021) and EU regulators circle Donohue in 2023. When Marc runs, opponents will ask whether a Donohue heir in the White House means a company running the country.

- Conflicts of interest. Marc's 12% stake becomes a campaign issue: blind trust or divestment? (Real precedent: presidential ethics fights in past administrations.)
- Culture-war target. Like the real-world fights between Florida and a major entertainment company in 2022–23, Donohue's huge Orlando resort puts it in the crosshairs of Florida politics and Governor DeSantis (44) in 2023.
- Succession. Victor (76) is Chairman and Natasha (51) is CEO. If Marc becomes President, who inherits the throne: Elxa, Grace, or the twins one day? Generational wealth in action.
- Cornelius Smilley sits on the board of Meridian Pictures, the rival studio, and would love to see an antitrust case break Donohue apart.

■ Continuity Alert: "Most Valuable" at $1.5 Trillion

In real life on Jan 1, 2023, Apple was worth about $2.07T, Saudi Aramco about $1.9T, and Microsoft about $1.79T, so $1.5T would rank 4th. To make Donohue #1 at exactly $1.5T, our timeline needs one locked rule.
Recommended: because Donohue dominates media, streaming tech, payments, and licensing, the companies it competes with are smaller than in real life (in our world on Jan 1, 2023, Apple is about $1.4T and Microsoft about $1.3T). Alternative: keep real-world rivals as they are and raise Donohue's valuation above $2.1T. The author decides.